

~Jonathan Love~
2010 NIFPA Speech Arts Adjudicator

Jonathan Love has played many roles. He has his MFA in Drama; a BA in English (U. Calgary); and his LTCL from Trinity College, London. As a teacher/director, Jonathan has been affiliated with the Mount Royal University Conservatory since 1992, and has directed and produced a variety of plays, cartoons and events for audiences of all ages.

Onscreen, he has worked with notable performers and directors including Kevin Costner, Robert Duvall, Bruce Campbell, Andy Garcia, Ang Lee, Jake Gyllenhaal and Anne Hathaway. On stage he has performed as far away as Knebworth House in England, where his company debuted

Sir Edward Bulwer-Lytton's The Captives, and The Lady of Lyons (2003). In studio, Jonathan has written, directed and produced radio and television campaigns including the 2009 Grey Cup Festival in Calgary.

Vocally, Jonathan has voiced characters for many cartoon series including Dragonball GT, Zeta Gundam, Stark Raven, and young Obi-Wan Kenobi in the LucasArts video game for Star Wars, The Clone Wars. He has hosted morning radio, voiced commercials, films and events and teaches voice-over workshops through his company ToonVox. (www.toonvox.com)

For sixteen years running, he continues to entertain audiences throughout North America with his musical comedy group, the Heebie-jeebies. (www.heebie-jeebies.com)

Jonathan is very excited to be adjudicating the Speech Arts classes in the 2010 North Island Festival of the Performing Arts.
